I am supporting the weather and traffic channel! Being a longtime truckdriver and having a son, daughter, and son-in-law who are also truckdrivers, we have found this channel to be a great source of information for us and ALL truckdrivers. Weather and traffic conditions can effect our jobs drastically from great to hazardous and being able to tune in and get up to date information quickly is a huge asset for truckdrivers. Our job requires us to go through several climates and traffic changes in just one week and any knowledge a truckdriver can acquire to make our job safer and more efficiently prepared is a PLUS!
